

NEGRO'S BLUFF DID NOT WORK

Went to Office of a Local Physician to "Muss Someone Up."

Little Medico Had no Chance to Win Except with a Gun—and He Did.

A young physician of this city had a great opportunity a short time ago to assume the role of "hope of the white race," and it may be also predicted that had he accepted the chance, he would have gone the way of a certain other "hope of the etc." who considered himself favorably enough to argue with an Ethiopian. The bone-setter attended a husky negro a short time ago, and when his remuneration was not forthcoming, he went so far as to attach the salary of the negro, who in the meantime had moved to Kansas City. The attachment brought no results and the doctor was about giving up hope of collecting the coin, when, in walked the negro. He assumed a Jack Johnson pose, and declared that he had paid his fare, Pullman, dining car and all, for the sole purpose of "attending to" the creditor. He said that such insolence could not be overlooked and that he intended to "muss someone up."

Now, the doctor is a little fellow—mild mannered as a school girl, and never did win any laurels on the athletic field. He knew he couldn't cope with the big black, but he also knew that a gun could.

He slipped his hand into a drawer, and brought forth an ugly looking weapon and advised the belligerent negro to abandon his aggressive tone, and come to terms, which the latter did with a quick change of front that astonished even the owner of the gun. Before the negro left the office, he not only apologized for his hasty conduct, but promised on his honor to go back to work and divide his wages with the physician until the debt was cleared, saying that he was only joking, anyhow.

GOOD DRY FARMS IN MALAD VALLEY

Dr. Ray Says Regions That Have Had No Rain Will Average 20 Bushels to Acre.

Dr. Ray is one of the heavy dry wheat farmers of the Malad valley, and is an enthusiastic booster of the little city. He says that dry farming has proved a great success in the Malad country this year, the success being greater than otherwise because of the climatic conditions this year. He states that there has been practically no rain in the valley this season and yet the dry farms are averaging from seventeen to twenty bushels of wheat to the acre.

TRACK IS NEAR BRIGHAM CITY

Rapid Transit Company is Rushing Work on Extension of Line.

Will Try and Have Line Ready for Big Peach Day Celebration.

The Ogden Rapid Transit company is straining every effort to complete their line to Brigham in time for the annual Peach Day celebration there on September 6. The progress being made is more than satisfactory, but whether or not the company can carry passengers to the terminal at Brigham on this date is a matter of speculation as yet.

The officials of the road assure us, however, that the tracks will be laid and ready for business in time for the opening of the Four-State Fair, September 22, and declare that they will then be able to handle the passenger traffic offered them from the northern part of the state.

MISSIONARY WRITES HOME

Leonard Read Tells of His Work in and Near Liege, Belgium.

A letter from Leonard T. Read, son of Syrus Read of this city, who is now in Liege, Belgium, on a mission, has just been received, and shows that the young man is getting along very nicely in the country noted for its rugs and rabbits.

Writing to his brother and sisters the young man says in part:

"I suppose you would like to know a little of what is going on over here. It is very different in this country than at home—the people are so much different. It is nothing to see the woman performing the same kind of labor as the men. Women are commonly engaged in cleaning the streets, hauling coal and driving delivery wagons.

"People do not use as many horses as we do, but those they do use are great large ones, as large as the biggest that you see in Ogden. The small work is done by dogs. Two dogs will be hitched to a cart filled with coal and it seems a shame to permit their pulling and tugging at so great a load.

"Yesterday we went out to see and eat with some of the saints. We had to go about 10 miles to reach their place and I tell you it got tiresome, and it was not very altogether satisfactory to find when we got there only a little soup and bread and cheese for dinner. They seldom have butter on the table. But let me say that it tasted good just the same. I have been filling up like a pig and have gained ten pounds since I left home. If I keep on at this rate I will be fat before I return."

BUSY WEEK IN BUILDING CIRCLES

Cement Pillars for Marion Hotel Have Already Been Laid.

Lyceum Theater and Other Buildings Are Progressing Rapidly.

Building in the city during the week has progressed rapidly; buildings that were practically in embryo in the early part of the week today have assumed definite form. There seems to have been no delays on account of a shortage in workmen or building material.

The cement workers on the Marion hotel on Lincoln avenue and Twenty-fifth streets have moved rapidly, and now the pillars along the south side of the basement and the bases for pillars through the center have been laid. On Monday morning, it is stated by the contractor, work may be begun on the concrete pillars that will extend to the top of the building, and it will be but a few days when the cement floor of the basement may be laid.

The Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company is fast finishing the excavation for the roadbed of their track between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-fourth streets on Lincoln avenue, and by the beginning of next week the laying of the cement base will be begun. The greater force of men of the company have been busily engaged during the week finishing the overland crossing at the intersection of their road and the Union Pacific railway, it being expected that the completion of the steel structure will be completed within a short time.

The carpenters are busy placing the roof upon the new business block that is being erected by David Maule on Twenty-fifth street near Lincoln avenue. The cornice work has been placed on the front of the building and the building, from a view, has the appearance of having reached the latter end of finishing. The interior is yet to be built, but the carpenters are making good progress in the work. The brick walls have been completed and the large girders for the roof have been placed in position and the carpenters are moving along rapidly in the construction of the floors of the balcony and the auditorium. The roof will be placed upon the structure in the early part of next week, and it is fully expected that the theater will be ready for use nearly all of the building along the route of Hudson avenue have been razed to the ground. All the buildings facing either upon Twenty-fourth or Twenty-fifth streets, except the Tribune building on the former street and the American Tea company on the latter street, and they are fast falling. By 6 o'clock tonight the walls of these two buildings will practically be torn down and a plain view of the entire width of the avenue between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets may be had.

The contractor for the building of the pavement, sidewalk, curb and gutter and sewer along the new avenue will be let within the next ten days and it is thought that there will be nothing in the way of commencing building operations. The paving on that avenue will be done in conjunction with the laying of asphaltum on Washington avenue, between Twenty-second street and the Ogden river bridge. It is planned to complete the paving mapped out on these two avenues before the extremely cold weather appears.

W. H. Ellis is building a residence on Washington avenue, between Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets, that will cost upwards of $2,000.

B. F. Sheppard has commenced the construction of a dwelling house on Lincoln avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, that will cost when completed about $1,200.

EXPLOSION CAUSES FIRE.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 27.—An explosion in the Peacock Flour Mill in Milton, Ore., caused a fire tonight which destroyed the mill and a number of small buildings. For a time the entire city was threatened. The loss is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

GYPSIES ROB A MOTORCYCLIST

Paul Reuber Tells of Experiences On a 5,200 Mile Trip.

Salt Lake Man Spends Vacation in an Interesting North-western Tour.

Mr. Paul M. Rueber, a former resident of Salt Lake City, and now connected with a Salt Lake business house, yesterday completed a 5,200 mile motorcycle trip through the northern intermountain country which took him north to the British boundary.

Mr. Rueber's machine is of the double cylinder type and some of the runs of this reinforced cycle were close to the record—290 miles having been covered in the best day's run—this, notwithstanding the driver's 250 pounds of avoirdupois and a baggage bundle weighing 150 pounds.

The cost of the gasoline and oil for this long trip was but $27.00, or one-half cent per mile.

Mr. Rueber tells many interesting experiences which occurred on the trip, the most "touching" one of which was a hold-up and robbery by a roving band of gypsies while the motorcycle was endeavoring to run his machine through a stretch of sand on the side of a mountain north of Billings, Mont.

From his vast experience with the cycle on long cross country runs, Mr. Rueber has learned that the belt is much preferable to the chain gear, and advises brother cycle fans to forsake the chain. He declares that the belt helps the driver greatly in sand piles and rough travel. The belt will slip, of course, but the motor is always kept in action.

The traveler asserts that he visited no town which was in a better condition than Ogden. There is more substantial growth and a better future here than in any of the other cities, most of which, according to the motorcyclist, are suffering considerably from a financial stringency, and reaction in business affairs.

LEONARD "STIRRED UP" W. U. OFFICE

Many Rumors Regarding Resignation of Manager Long of Salt Lake.

General "Shake-up" in the Western Union's Office in Zion.

There are disquieting rumors afloat regarding the resignation of Manager Long of the Salt Lake Western Union Telegraph office.

It is hinted about town that the recent tour of "inspection" of Superintendent Leonard of Denver had more to do with the retirement of Mr. Long than is generally known, and that the tour of "inspection" was in reality a forerunner of a "shake-up" amongst the big ones of Utah telegraph circles.

The report goes that Chief Operator MacDonald, Traffic Chief Cannon and Manager Long were slated for the "blue envelope," but that the manager scented something that was in the air and hastily resigned.

It is also said that the superintendent was dissatisfied with the amount of work being done by the force of operators on the office pay roll and intended to investigate the matter.

If the story is true, then there certainly would be a shake-up. The name of Wire Chief Green, who was formerly connected with the Ogden office, is not mentioned, so that it would appear that he was not among those slated for release or transfer. With this exception the "inspection" would clean out every official in the Salt Lake office.

Superintendent Leonard visited Ogden on his tour, and there is some speculation as to whether this office is to be "inspected" as has been the capital.

SALT LAKE AUTOISTS VISIT OGDEN CANYON

An automobile party from Salt Lake City—not the joy-riding sort—did Ogden yesterday. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woodhull, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Gustin and Harry Carr.

A trip to the canyon and about the city, with a rest at the Reed, occupied the afternoon, and as night fell they sought the Potter cafe, where an inviting dinner was served.

Mr. C. L. Stone of St. Louis joined the party here and returned to Salt Lake with them.

STRONG BILL AT THE ORPHEUM BEGINS TONIGHT

MARION MURRAY & CO. In their Screaming Farce, "A Prima Dona's Honeymoon."

Marion Murray and company have a bright comedy sketch called "The Prima Dona's Honeymoon," written by Edgar Allen Wolf, which in itself is a guarantee of its worth. Miss Murray is one of the popular Murray Sisters. In this new offering she more than upholds her reputation as a Vaudeville Star. The New York papers describe it as a "screaming farce, deliciously presented by Marion Murray and her capable faucons."

Pringle and Whiting are two clever and entertaining singers who have a new offering called "Breaking Into Vaudeville." It is a delightful assortment of comedy chatter and popular songs, strung to Galley in an interesting manner.

Paul La Croix, "The Mad Hatter," as he has been styled by the Eastern press, is an eccentric comedian and a clever juggler. In the make up of a "Weary Willie" he gives a deft exhibition of balancing and manipulating various articles, but it is in the juggling of hats of different styles and shapes that his performance can claim its greatest originality.

The Two Demis have an equilibrium act that is startling in the extreme. With the aid of a revolving ladder they defy all laws of gravitation. The act is far above the average.

With an excellent orchestral program prepared by Prof. Short and his fine orchestra and the motion pictures the bill will be one long to be remembered in Ogden.

HOW TO DRINK FROM FOUNTAIN

Ogden young ladies will have to be educated to the manipulation of the new drinking fountain which was installed yesterday afternoon at the corner of Twenty-fourth street and Washington avenue, or else a card with explicit directions will have to be hung on the center post. Something must be done, and that quickly.

When a pretty miss carefully attired in white lawn and a plentiful supply of Madame Yale's guaranteed beautifier, finds it impossible to prevent the bubbling beverage from rushing into her nostrils and washing away the coat of guaranteed (?) gilt, it is certainly time for the city officials to act.

GREAT SHOW AT THE ORPHEUM

Tonight is the opening of the second week's bill of the season at the Orpheum, and it is one to judge from the promises of press notices and the bill will be one of the most remarkable ever presented before the people of Ogden. At least Mr. Gooss, the manager, says it will be the heaviest, with the elephants and horses and electrical effects carried for the Ballet of Light, not to mention the numerous properties for the other acts.

The act billed as the headline of the bill is Loie Fuller's "Ballet of Light." An act that was the sensation of New York and Boston, where it recently made its initial performance, and we have the promise of assurance that the act will be produced in Ogden precisely as it was in the metropolitan cities of the East. In the Ballet Miss Fuller is assisted by seven young girls, in Grecian costume and with bare feet. With the numerous bursts of light and effects on the dancers, it makes a spectacle of grandeur that is hard to describe, and must be seen to be appreciated.
